Eleanor

"HOWARD HUGHES' MYSTERIOUS TRUMPY... While Howard Hughes and the equally famous Spruce Goose—a.k.a. "The Flying Boat"—are forever linked, it's lesser known that the brilliant billionaire had an affinity for true boats. Indeed Katherine Hepburn first picked up a paintbrush on one of Hughes' yachts... and legend has it that Hughes romanced many aspiring actress aboard his vessels. So imagin the stories the mahogany planking aboard the Eleanor could tell if it could talk, as the yacht belonged to Hughes from 1957 to 1961."

Diane M. Byrne, "Megayachts" Power & Motoryacht, May '05

IMAGINE MORNING COFFEE ON THE FANTAIL... Drinks and dinner to celebrate an anniversary or birthday is the ideal gift for the boater that has everything. Corporate outings and weddings... and she's much as she was in the 1940's."

Jim Malcom, "Cruising With Howard Hughs" Nor'easter, September '05

"IT HAS BEEN SAID THAT IF JOHN TRUMPY HAD MADE CARS, ROLLS ROYCE WOULD HAVE BEEN THE SECOND BEST AUTOMOBILE IN THE WORLD... Many yachts of this vintage get full remodeling jobs. Replacing twin bunks with a larger bed is usually one of the first steps. But the three staterooms aboard the Eleanor have kept their original appointments... Richly finished mahogany walls line the main salon. Original brass cranks that roll the windows up and down are still hidden behind German-silver seashell covers."

E.B. Furgurson III, "Howard Hughes' Grand Lady Pays a Call..." The Capital, April '06
