What happens when the biggest beauty company in Baltimore does beautiful? Dreams come true! On July 20, 2008, CoverGirl teamed up with the Make-A-Wish Foundation® to grant four young women their ultimate wish: to be a real CoverGirl for a day. These special girls were flown to New York and taken via limousine to Milk Studios in Manhattan, where their wish day unfolded. A glam squad that included stylist Mary Alice Stephenson, photographer Don Flood, and CoverGirl makeup artist Marco Peña turned them into stars. With a treasure trove of gorgeous gowns, accessories, handbags, and shoes that was donated by the biggest names in fashion, all these ladies had to do was step in front of the camera and turn on the magic that truly makes a CoverGirl: inner beauty and indomitable spark. So who are these amazing CoverGirls?

Kelsey, 16, had a heart transplant and was awed by meeting the real CoverGirls from America’s Next Top Model. She says she’ll never wear any other makeup that isn’t CoverGirl.

Ashleigh, 18, has lymphoma and is in love with fashion. Her favorite part of the day was the “amazing” dress she wore.

Janet, 17, has osteosarcoma. She said being a CoverGirl brought the edge back to her personality—one that has been struggling to resurface since she was diagnosed with cancer.

“My biggest inspiration would have to be my mother. Despite our differences, I can still see what she has put up with and know she’ll still be standing by my side, no matter what.” —Ashleigh
